

New for 2001!

RACE, RIGHTS AND REPARATION
 Law and the Japanese American internment

Eric K. Yamamoto
 Margaret Chon
 Carol I. Izumi
 Jerry Kang
 Frank H. Wu

A Critical Exploration of the Balance Between Civil Liberty and National Security in the Japanese American Internment
 During World War II

The Book Features:

- An interdisciplinary approach with scholarship from sociology and history and law review articles as well as never before published oral histories, litigation documents and personal reflections by participants in the cases
- Current issues that are as important as ever — as seen in the Wen Ho Lee case and African American reparations claims for historic injustice
- A discussion of how areas of law construct race and how political and social contexts shape and influence the law
- A Teacher's Manual complete with explanations and analysis that address questions raised in the book
- A website with full text of cases and links to many additional resources: www.law.ucla.edu/faculty/kang/racerrightsreparation

For information on special undergraduate pricing for:
 RACE, RIGHTS AND REPARATION/2001/550 Pages/ISBN 0-7355-2393-2
 Call 1-800-950-5259

Please note that free examination copies are a professional courtesy to instructors. They are to be used for adoption consideration only. Thank you.

General Information (please complete the following information when requesting complimentary copies)

Name _____ Position _____

School _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Phone () _____ Fax () _____

E-Mail _____